CASUALTY LIST FOR PAT

Kansas City, Mo.—If Patrick McMahon had not stopped to look at a pair of silk stockings he might have been $90 ahead. Here's the story:

Two young men stopped McMahon and asked him for a match. As he handed the much desired "light" to the two, a young woman standing nearby lifted a dainty silk skirt—and while McMahon was well, surveying the surroundings, pulled a small revolver from the silk stocking and said in clear tones:

"Stick 'em up, old man."

The two young men stepped over and took his roll of ninety bones.

"Thank you," said the young wearer of the silk stockings, as she took the arms of the two young men and walked smilingly away.

WHEN PRINCE HENRY CAME

Wonder Where That Album With Views of Chattanooga Is?

The visit of Prince Henry, of Prussia, brother of the ex-kaiser, to Chattanooga on March 2, 1902, is recalled by his leave of Kiel last Thursday. At this time his leave was in the nature of a flight with a red flag unfurled on his automobile. At the time of his visit to Chattanooga it was with dignity and honor, and he was shown the courtesy due a member of the royal family at that time. Crowds gathered at the Union station to see the prince and his party. Little children were held at the top of their parents' hands to get a glimpse of him. The city officials took him to Lookout mountain, where he said the view was not equaled in all Europe. This phrase has been often repeated as coming from a crowned head. Coming back, he was driven through the city with his party, of which the submarine pirate, Admiral Von Tirpitz, was a member. In the carriage with the prince was the mayor of the city—A. W. Chambliss.

Returning to the Union station, the prince was presented with an album containing views of Chattanooga and community, which was made for the purpose at a cost of $1,000. Hon. Newell Sanders made the presentation speech, to which Prince Henry replied simply, "I thank you."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
Do not imagine that because other cough medicines failed to give you relief that it will be the same with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Year in mind that from a small beginning this remedy has gained a world-wide reputation and immense sale. A medicine must have exceptional merit to win esteem wherever it becomes known.—(Adv.)
